This recipe was my grandmother's, a wonderful Iowa version of a 'digger' who taught me how to bake, among other things - here is the treasured recipe:

GRANDMA ANGE'S SHORTBREAD

Heat oven to 350.

Mix 1 stick softened, salted butter, half cup sugar, & one cup flour with your fingers.

Press into a square log, slice & bake for 12 to 15 minutes.

These are great plain, but one can add in anything that strikes ones fancy.

* Diggers enjoyed these fabulous cookies at our meeting last month at Cal Tech. Mary had added a teaspoon of lavender to one batch & two sachets of earl grey tea to another. Also good additions are crystalized, ginger, chocolate chips, rosemary
